Accommodation

Built at the beginning of the 17th Century, the Château d'Etoges has hosted many French Kings, who enjoyed staying for a few nights on their way to the East. Famous guests include Louis XIV, the Sun King, who was particularly fond of the sensational gardens, fountains and pools and it is said that King Louis XVI sought refuge here during his escape to Varennes following the French Revolution. The owners who have had the Chateau for over a century vow that every guest will receive a regal welcome, matching their famous clientele of the past! In a small picturesque village, located 36 miles outside of Reims, that matches the elegance of this beautiful Chateau, guests can take in the sights, sounds and particularly tastes of the Capital of Champagne before retiring to what feels like their own personal castle. In this charming and unique destination, you can take a ride around the moat in your very own rowing boat providing you don't scare the swans! The Chateau also offers bicycles, table tennis, croquet and boules to keep even the most active guests occupied!

Crossing the bridge over the Château's moat is like stepping into a fairytale-the grandeur of the façade and the expansive grounds are truly breathtaking. Drinking a flute of Champagne on the terrace on a warm summer evening is a real treat-otherwise the aperitif can be taken in the opulent, grand lounge, where you will find comfy leather sofas and daily newspapers.

The Château has 20 individually-styled bedrooms, and the magnificent Deluxe rooms, effectively Junior Suites are situated in the Château itself and offer beautiful panoramic views across the grounds. They also have a separate lounge area. The huge beds and high ceilings create a regal atmosphere, whilst maintaining warmth and cosiness.

This spectacular castle, set in 18 acres of spectacular parkland, is an ideal haven of privacy and tranquillity.
